

GUARDSMEN ARE MUCH DISPLEASED

Vision of Fort Russell Camp Is Shattered.

BLAME STAFF OFFICERS

INSPECTOR GENERAL'S REPORT ALSO FIGURES.

There was wailing and gnashing of teeth among the members of the National Guard yesterday. The cause was the announcement that the organization would not be permitted to go into incampment with the regular troops at Fort Russell, Wyo., next month. The boys had worked themselves up to fever heat in enthusiasm over the prospect of maneuvering with 10,000 troops, and the sudden announcement that the guard would not go caused great disappointment.

Some of the staff officers are blamed for the fact that the guard will have to remain at home and have an encampment of its own. An unfavorable report by the inspector general, and a staff officer, are declared to be responsible for the "turn down" of the guard.

Officers and men of the regiment do not believe that the report rendered by the inspector general a short time ago after the regular inspection is the prime cause that influenced the government to decide against calling out the militia with the regulars.

"The boys do not like the methods of the inspector general because they are not in accordance with military regulations," said an officer, "and as a consequence they will not turn out for inspection. No man who has been stood up and forced to maintain the position of a soldier for three hours while such questions are being asked him as, 'Who is the brigadier general?' and other questions of no concern to the private, will turn out at another militia with the regulars."

Take to the Woods.

"The result is that the boys take to the woods when inspection time rolls around, and, of course, an unfavorable report is made. At the last inspection matters were in this shape and the report that was sent in by the inspector general roasted the guard and showed it in a very bad light. Regardless of the fact that we passed a favorable inspection under the regular army officers appointed for that purpose, we believe that this bad report of our own officer served to influence the war department against sending us out with the regulars."

"While we haven't the enlistment that some of the other states have, there is no question but that we are better equipped than any other guard in the west. Considering this and the bad report about our condition, the war department decided that none of the organizations were worthy to be taken out with the regulars."

"Then it looks to us as if there is still another reason that has played an important part in the matter. It is nothing more nor less than the jealousy of the staff officers. Had the guard been sent to Fort Russell, only the regimental organization could have been taken. The government does not include the staff officers in such an encampment, and they would, of course, have to stay at home. The regiment would be in charge of the colonel, and the other officers would be left out."

Staff Officers Not Anxious.

"Now there are several officers of high rank who never feel half so important as when they are with the regimentals on and are riding around in a drill field displaying themselves before an admiring crowd. On a simple state encampment these officers, of course, are ordered out, and have a chance to show their authority and draw their pay from the state. They would lose both on a joint encampment with the regulars. As a consequence these officers have not been very anxious to have the guard ordered to Cheyenne."

"In fact, it is pretty well understood among the boys that they have been fighting the proposition all along and have finally succeeded in gaining their point. The men and officers of the regiment feel pretty sure over the matter, and several of the officers are talking very strongly of resigning. It is quite likely that after the encampment—if one is held—they will resign immediately."

The brigade officers say they have no idea as to the cause for the order that shut out all the guards from the big encampment. Colonel H. M. H. Lund, inspector general of the guard, denies that his report on the recent inspection of the organization was a roast. He admitted that he found some of the companies in worse condition than they would be, but declared that, as a whole, the guard was better than the average organization of its kind. He ridiculed the idea that his report had anything to do with the turn affairs have taken.

Adjutant General C. S. Burton, when asked yesterday about the encampment of the guard, stated that it would probably be held somewhere near the city in August, although the whole matter would depend upon the pleasure of Governor Wells. No action has been taken yet in relation to the matter, but it is expected that the question will be settled in the near future, possibly within the next two or three days.

NEW MILITARY COMPANY.

Sergeant A. H. Lund says that all who desire to join the new company being organized by himself and former Captain Charles Floyd should appear at the armory between 8 and 9:30 o'clock Wednesday evening.

PARDONS FOR FIVE

Clemency Extended to a Quintette of Convicts by the State Board.

Five pardons were granted at the regular monthly meeting of the state board of pardons yesterday morning, which was held in the supreme court room in the city and county building. The application for a pardon for Joseph Bridge, convicted of criminal assault, was continued for one month, as was also the application of C. R. Maxwell, convicted of robbery. The five pardons were as follows:

Claus de Leeuw, convicted of a felony, given ten months by Judge Booth on March 13, 1903.

Fred Wilson, six years by Judge Rupp for felony; sentenced at Ogden July 23, 1900.

Lawrence C. Morris, four months in county jail by Judge Moore for obtaining money under false pretenses; sentenced May 21.

Leonard Willardson, one year for assault on a woman; sentenced by Judge Johnson on Jan. 15, 1903.

Lee McDonald, one year for grand larceny; sentenced from Emery county by Judge Johnson Dec. 28, 1902.

ESTATE OF J. A. HILL.

Thomas F. Thomas Files Petition in Probate Court.

The Cunningham company yesterday filed in the probate division of the district court a petition asking that letters of administration be issued to Thomas F. Thomas in the matter of the estate of John A. Hill, deceased, who died in this city last March, leaving an estate the value of which is unknown. The petition alleges that just prior to his death Hill transferred to his wife, without consideration, a ranch at Mill Creek valued at between $10,000 and $15,000. It states that the ranch should have been included in the assets of the deceased and that his creditors should have been given their proportionate share of the proceeds of the sale of the property.

Two Suits For Divorce.

Two actions for divorce were yesterday filed with the clerk of the district court. In both instances the plaintiff is a woman. Ellen Younger seeks permanent separation from Albert Vander on the ground of cruelty, alleging further that her husband was in the habit of calling her vile names. The couple were married in this city on May 15, 1899.

Sophie Blessing found that her husband's name proved to be a misnomer as far as her married life with George Blessing was concerned. She accuses him of failure to provide, and asks the court to give her $25 per month, alimony and the custody of their three children.

District Court Notes.

A suit seeking to quiet title to several mining claims in the Singshaw district was yesterday filed in the district court by William C. Staines against the Utah Savings & Trust company.

The title to seven lots in Martin's subdivision of the west half of block 33, plat C, Salt Lake City survey, is involved in the suit brought by Samuel G. Paul against L. H. Hodges et al.

PROTESTS HEARD.

Utah County Commissioners Before Equalization Board.

Protests of the Utah county commissioners and the county clerk against the raising of the assessment of that county were heard yesterday forenoon by the state board of equalization. The case was taken under advisement.

The state board has sent a summons to the Utah county officials to show cause why the assessment should not be raised 15 per cent from the amounts turned in by the assessors. Commissioners Dunn, Dixon and Webb and County Clerk Felix Bachman appeared to protest. They maintained that the present assessment was high enough and urged that no change be made in it.

The representatives of Wasatch and Tooele counties will be heard in a similar strain tomorrow. The state board has made tentative increases in the assessments of Cache, Weber, Davis, Utah, Summit, Morgan, Uintah, Sanvier, Wasatch, Tooele, Sannpete, Garfield and Grand counties. No increase has been made by the board in the Salt Lake county assessment because the local officials made returns so much above those of last year.

A HORSE OWNER'S REQUEST.

Believes That There Should Be Speedway in Liberty Park.

To The Salt Lake Herald:

There is a great feeling among the owners of good horses of the city that they are deprived of a speed drive in Liberty park. They feel that inasmuch as the city council granted and also built for the cyclists a track around the park that owners of horses should be granted to a certain extent the same privilege as that given to wheelmen. If those who have Liberty park under their jurisdiction would consider this matter and try if there is a benefit to be derived therefrom it will be greatly appreciated by the owners of good horses. There is no reason why the west drive should not be used as a speedway in the evening or week days.

Salt Lake, July 18.

ARGUMENTS MADE.

Justice Diehl Takes Pool Case Under Advisement.

Arguments in the case against F. H. Nelson, proprietor of the turf exchange, who is under arrest on the charge of keeping a gambling house, were heard yesterday morning before Judge Diehl. At the conclusion the matter was taken under advisement until Monday morning, when a decision will be given. This is a test case against pool selling and its outcome will be watched with considerable interest by the sporting men of the town.

WANLESS FINED $25.

Attorney Promptly Gives Notice of an Appeal.

Attorney Will F. Wanless, who was found guilty several days ago by Judge Diehl of preventing and persuading a witness from attending court, was yesterday fined $25. The time for sentence was Thursday last, but at that time Wanless asked for a stay or execution on the grounds that the complaint was faulty. The motion was taken under advisement until yesterday, when it was decided and Wanless was fined the amount above named. He gave notice of appeal and his bond was fixed at $50.

THE SEASON OF DULLNESS HERE

Trade Quiet in Nearly All City Lines.

THE JOBBING BUSINESS FAIR

COMMERCIAL STOCK MARKET IS LISTLESS.

Trade was quiet in nearly all lines in the city last week, but commercial men say that condition is to be expected during the hot summer months. Jobbing business is fair in some lines and quiet in others, while retail trade is about normal. Collections are fair. The money market is firm with plenty of available funds for first-class collateral. The mining stock market has not been helped any by the local labor controversies.

The commercial stock and bond market is somewhat dull, but there have been a number of small sales at the lower figures. The conflict over the Levison sugar factory has not yet been settled, and stocks have been depressed on account of the struggle. Amalgamated Sugar company common stock sold down to $95 and $96 per share, while the preferred stock is holding at $3.50 per share; the Utah Sugar company preferred stock sold at $3.75; Con. W. & M. Co. preferred stock sold at $96.75 and $97 per share; church bonds sold at 100% and 100%, Idaho Sugar company stock sold at $11.55, $11.50 and $11.55 per share, and Home Fire Insurance company stock sold at $14.50 per share.

The Daynes & Romney piano company will in a few days file articles of incorporation, with a capitalization of $10,000, divided into 1,000 shares of $10 a share. The officers and directors will be Evan Stephens, president; George Romney, vice president; R. R. Romney, treasurer; and H. S. Daynes, secretary and manager. Mr. Daynes has severed his connection with the Daynes Music company. The new company will conduct a piano and organ business exclusively, and will cater to the outside trade almost exclusively, as there is a big demand in the country for this line of goods.
